Retain Essential Moisture Hyaluronic Plus

Liposomes of Hyaluronic Acid plus Hyalurosmooth

Hyaluronic Acid is a natural component of connective tissue, and has the remarkable ability to hold nearly one thousand times its weight in water. Hyaluronic Acid cushions and lubricates the skin, it doesn't build like collagen, it inflates like water.

Collagen and Hyaluronic Acid are both produced by the same dermal skin cells called fibroblasts. Both collagen and Hyaluronic Acid degenerate in human skin with aging and sun damage, hormone depletion, lowered estrogen and menopause. When applied topically to the epidermis, HA hydrates the skin as a humectant. It literally attracts airborne water vapour into the skin and retains this moisture. Because of this mechanism the dermatologic effect is superior to what could be achieved by the typical moisturiser. Hyaluronic Acid also provides another key benefit by preventing the evaporation of water from the skin (Trans Epidermal Water Loss—TEWL).

In summary Hyaluronic Acid is a rising star in the cosmeceutical industry. Few ingredients are as safe, versatile and effective. "Hyaluronic Acid is probably the most underrated and powerful ingredient the cosmeceutical industry has yet to fully exploit." Dr Dennis Gross: DermaScope December 2005

Take care of your skin this winter!

As the winter season draws closer, so many of us forget to give our skin that little bit extra. External factors such as cold weather, wind, changes in temperature (from air conditioning, heaters...), all lead to dehydration, dryness and premature ageing.

Balance and Soothe your skin - Try not to strip your skin of natural sebaceous oils, leaving your skin exposed to environmental stresses Recommended DermaFix Azulen Milk Cleanser

Mildly Exfoliate - Brighten dull, winter skin by accelerating the removal of dead skin cells Recommended DermaFix DermaPolish

Moisturize, Moisturize, Moisturize- Use a moisturizer to protect your skin during the day, and to nourish your skin at night Recommended Omega+ Tissue Oil

Sun protection: Even on a cloudy day- upto 80% of the sun's rays can penetrate clouds, snow and fog. Protect your skin regardless of the weather Recommended DermaShield SPF 45
